

2-3-5 Journal Reflection on Representation

Think about the short videos, readings, and other information shared in this lesson and describe how it has affected your thinking about the representation in popular culture of girls, women, racial minorities, and various other underrepresented groups.

You may want to consider

- the benefits to individuals and society of having diverse characters represented in movies, TV, comic books, novels, etc.
- how people are affected by a lack of diversity in the characters they see in pop culture
- how people are affected by stereotypical portrayals of girls, women, and minorities
- anything new, surprising, or important that you learned in this lesson

Write about or draw a picture of one character you admire who does not share your cultural, ethnic, or gender identity.
